Project

left in the hands of the elected officials, however. The proposal states, "The Citizens Advisory Committee" are advisers, not administrators.

A point system included in the plan will determine if applicants are eligible for the housing renovation.

The point system is based on income level, and household characteristics which include consideration of elderly, handicapped, disabled, female head of the household with dependent children, and large family.

Upon approval of the plan by the council and HUD, a copy of the plan will be available in city hall, Murray said. He stated he hopes the plan will receive final approval within one month.

The entire Small Cities Project is expected to include improvements to parks and playgrounds as well as gas line renovation, housing rehabilitation and clearance and demolition.

The project has been earmarked to receive some $1.7 million from HUD. HUD has already approved some $633,000 for Bay St. Louis for the year 1982.

Of that amount, the council Tuesday approved a plan for the gas line renovation project. The plan calls for the gas line to be replaced with a new line, and for the gas line to be replaced with a new line.

Wednesday Murray said he thought the gas line project would begin within five or six months. He noted the firm must first determine which gas lines are in most need of repair. The job must also be advertised and bids accepted, he said.

Of the remaining money allocated for the 1982 year, some $28,000 is proposed to be spent on renovation of the Washington Street Park; some $78,000 for rehabilitation; $45,000 for clearance and demolition; $49,000 for general administration; and $37,000 for a contingency fund.

Plans for Washington Street Park include renovation of tennis courts in that area, resurfacing the basketball court, and purchase of recreational apparatus for young children.

What type of apparatus to be purchased for the park would be determined by the Bay St. Louis Parks and Play Grounds Commission, Murray said.

THE MUSIC OF MAN—Singer Norma French performs Bach's "Erbarme Dich Mein Gott" from the Saint Matthew Passion with violinist Robert Monahan in program four of "The Music of Man." The program can be seen at 7 p.m. Sunday, October 10, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Mrs. French and Monahan have been featured on the Mississippi ETV. "The Music of Man" is a co-production of Mississippi ETV and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Story Hour titles listed

Every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library a story hour is given for preschool children. This week "All Falling Down" by Gene Zion will be read to the children first. The second story to be told is "The Cat and Mouse Who Shared A House," a German folktale. The finger play, "The Ant Hill" will be performed next. The program will end with a flannelboard story based on the book "Millions of Cats" by Wanda Gag.

A FREE PRESS Your window to the world

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK OCTOBER 11-17, 1981

Someone is trying to fog up the window of which we look as a Free Press to see the world.

The challenge to a free press worldwide has emerged in 1981 with the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) proclaiming the establishment of a "new world information order." A part of this thrust was the setting up of an international commission to accredit journalists and see that they conform to a still-to-be-established code of ethics.

What a chilling effect of the free flow of international news for journalists to be subject to accreditation by a body of censors with a mandate to certify only those "new" reporters who "measure up."

Of the 35 nations represented on the UNESCO council, only eight support free press principles. Emerging Third World and Communist bloc countries from a solid phalanx against what we in the American press have called "heresies" from the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Thirteen of the 18 centers of Western journalism—professional, news organizations already have their own codes of journalistic ethics. In most Third World and all Communist bloc countries, the state either owns or controls the print and broadcast media. These are the nations favoring the imposition of licensing the codes of ethics on journalists around the world.

Placing the UNESCO in a contradictory posture is a United Nations Charter provision in Article 19, espousing a universal declaration of human rights which says, "Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

The guarantee of the United Nations charter of freedom of opinion and expression can hardly be fulfilled by a UNESCO proclamation seeking to establish a "new world information order" calling for, among other things, the licensing of reporters.

Our heritage of freedom of the press has helped to foster the technologies which have greatly facilitated the national and international flow of news. Just as a free press has been our window to the world, when our meaningful world was limited to news about the neighborhood, schools, city, county, state, and national government, now a free press through which we see the world must meet the challenge to keep open that window of information and vision. These new technologies can help with the free flow of information and UNESCO would do well to help cultivate this approach rather than establish hypocritical boundaries for the free press.

In the vanguard of opposition to this hypocrisy are the journalists of some 20 countries at a "Voice of Freedom" conference in May at Tallahassee, Florida. Out of this meeting came the Declaration of Tallahassee, a nine point document, soundly rejecting the international free press community's battle cry supporting the universal human right to be fully informed. "We believe that the ultimate definition of a free press lies not in the actions of governments or international bodies, but rather in the protest of the vigor and courage of individual journalists."

"Press freedom is a basic human right. It empowers ourselves to concerted action to defend that right."

Polish Workers Unmask True Face of Communism

"Workers of the world unite!" has been the rallying cry of communists for more than 100 years.

But when workers do unite, as they have in Poland, against an oppressive communist government, those men eager to crush the legitimate aspirations of workers are the leaders of the Communist Party.

Can anyone still pretend that Poland or any other communist state in the world is run by the workers? Without exception, these countries are ruled by treacherous Communist Party bosses who will stop at nothing to maintain their power and achieve their ends.

Measurless, slave labor, exploitation and mass deportation are their special trade.

These are the privileged elite who shop in exclusive stores where well-made foreign goods are plentiful and prices are cheap. They get an apartment of their choice, own a car in the country and travel freely abroad.

Workers in the Communist countries are not so fortunate. They stand in long lines for food, clothing and consumer goods, only to find that the quality is poor or the goods have already been sold.

Years of hard work in most communist countries must wait three to five years just for the right to rent a room or apartment. Everyone except the party elite must wait 10 to 15 years for the right to buy an automobile, and then it is only permitted if the purchase price has been paid in advance, since there is no such thing as credit.

More workers live without freedom of speech or of the press, without freedom of religion, without the right to travel freely either within or outside their own country, without freedom of enterprise or the right to own private property, and without the right to keep and bear the arms which might lead to their freedom.

Marxist theories of class struggle and historic determinism are laughable in the face of workers striking against a communist state and being rebuffed by force of arms.

Like people in Poland stand today as a testament of all that is best in the human spirit.

They are willing to stand up to the most powerful nation on earth, the Soviet Union, and they are willing to die for the freedom they make their land endure. They know that no one, including the United States, will come to their aid.

They are proof that neither generations of oppression nor fear of death and destruction can erase the love of liberty from the human heart.

From Communist already knew Communism is not the kind, humanitarian defender of the working class that its apologists would have us believe.

Behind the smiling mask is hypocrisy, brutality and evil.

Woody Jenkins

One Polish patriot told a meeting of trade union leaders: "It's better to die on your feet than to live on your knees."

In explaining why he was willing to risk everything in his cause, one Polish patriot told a meeting of trade union leaders: "It's better to die on your feet than to live on your knees."

The workers of Poland have once again shown the West what everyone behind the Iron Curtain already knew.

Communism is not the kind, humanitarian defender of the working class that its apologists would have us believe.

Behind the smiling mask is hypocrisy, brutality and evil.

Inflation Tushy

Bay, garbage pickup, fee hike

October 11, 1981
The Editor

Re: Garbage and Trash pick-up in Bay St. Louis.

This information that the unjustifiable adverse remarks to subject matter were made at a recent meeting of the City Council. This is an example of destructive criticism, possibly made because of lack of knowledge rather than self-serving interest.

We have made our residence in Bay St. Louis since June 1974. A period of a little more than 32 years. We have found Bay St. Louis a very pleasant place to live and an excellent place to have raised our children. It is our intention to remain here even though our personal circumstances have undergone a recent change.

During the first part of the 32 years garbage and trash pick-up was provided by city forces. To refer to this activity as a "service" is a gross misuse of the word. It was undependable, inefficient, and anything else that might be added to a derogatory nature.

Since this service has been rendered by a private firm under contract with the city I know of no real complaints. Occasional minor complaints of course, but none of any real importance.

The schedules are dependable, the employees courteous and very so. Considering and with modern equipment to do the job I can think of no possible suggestion in the way of making any improvements.

So this service costs money requiring an increase in the monthly charges to the users of this convenience. What's wrong with this?

The cost of garbage and trash pick-up is subject to inflation, the same as a commodity.

The rate of increase, in my opinion, is reasonable.

Considering the convenience of having a disagreeable chore taken care of in a most efficient manner, the increase is definitely not excessive.

Commission seeks almost $1 million in airport work

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Bay St. Louis engineer is applying for grants and loans for almost $1 million in Stennis International Airport improvements which will significantly enhance the Hancock County facility for industrial development.

Also, a paved roadway and water lines serving the airport and paralleling the eastern side of Stennis International Airport have been substantially completed and work is underway to repair the storm-damaged roof of the airport's hangar building.

The County Port and Harbor Commission Thursday night authorized Michael Smith, Advanced Development, Inc. president and civil engineer, to update an airport development report and submit the document to the U.S. Department of Commerce's Economic Development Administration seeking grants for a water well and tower.

Smith was also authorized to prepare and submit a "pre-application" to Farmer's Home Administration for an airport sewage collection system and treatment plant loan.

The engineer reported he would emphasize in the report update a 1972 EDA "commitment" to the commission promising funds to complete airport development. He said at that time the commission received some $500,000 for the initial airport work.

Smith revealed that due to federal budget cuts EDA will remain in existence at least until Nov. 20 with grants available nationwide totalling some $60 million.

He said of that amount some $1.5 million would be allocated for Mississippi projects.

"I'm not suggesting a pre-application is because the government is going to close the EDA program down," Smith reported.

But he said EDA officials are "fully aware" of Hancock's industrial developments, seem very receptive to the county's funding plans and "concentrating on supporting economic development projects."

"We need about $200,000 from EDA and the rest from FMHA," Smith stated.

He said EDA would need the report update within 30 days to improve chances of funding and the same basic information could be utilized in the FMHA pre-application.

The engineer explained FMHA would be more prone to provide a $700,000 loan for a third phase project such as the airport, but could not finance its "sewage treatment facilities."

Smith suggested the county might issue bonds to support FMHA loan payments.

W. Wilson Webre, commission executive director, said if the County Board of Supervisors would permanently allocate one mill of taxes to help fund the airport, that action would enhance the commission's chances of receiving FMHA money.

Smith speculated, "I think if we could get a grant from EDA for sewerage, the rest of the money could be obtained from FMHA."

Regarding the airport road, the commission authorized issuing $21,387 final payment to Carter and Mullings, Inc. of Columbia pending completion of several "punch list" items.

Smith reported some $7,600 in liquidated damages were deducted from the $28,987 payment due to a 36-day project overrun.

R.D. Herring of Columbia, Carter and Mullings' project superintendent, requested the company be forgiven for the time overrun penalty.

He claimed superior work quality, subcontracting difficulties and commission project amendments as reasons for leaving the project late.

But Herring stated, "I don't think we'd need any additional time."

Victor Francisler, EDA regional commissioner, explained "I've been on the job several times and I've been with the job. But I look at the damage orders as giving you a company that's not a business. I consider them as overrunning a breach of contract in favor of keeping the financial damages."

Webre said resident engineers' inspection cost overrun resulting from the delayed project amounted to $12,007.

Smith noted, after Herring left meeting, that the superintendent offered an improper request because Carter and Mullings had accepted payment requests, signed an acceptance of completion notice, and agreed to the liquidated damage fees.

"The contract with the company says if Carter and Mullings had any problems they should notify the commission," he explained.

In reference to the hangar building roof repair project, the commission accepted a recommendation by Fred Wagner, a Bay St. Louis architect, and Webre to issue a $1,654 change order to the existing $3,300 contract with Dillman, Inc. also of Bay St. Louis.

Wagner reported in a letter read by Webre that a rust condition to the roof panel and lap was found by workers when they began replacing roof fasteners.

The architect recommended the rust areas be treated and a fiber coating be applied over the entire roof to extend its life for 10 years. The building was constructed about 12 years ago.

Webre noted the increased repair expense of some $5,000 to cover the $12,000 insurance payment for roof damage resulting from a fire which struck about 1.5 years ago.

company should take measures to protect a 12-inch diameter asbestos-cement water pipe which crosses the property about 30 feet underground. He said heavy equipment used early in the project damaged the pipe.

Regarding negotiations with Professional Steel Fabrication, Inc. to purchase property owned by International Demolition and Salvage Co. in the park, Webre said, "Company officials are still negotiating and they will be closing the transaction shortly."

Otis Sharpe, a company representative, refused to reveal his corporate position, where the company is located or exactly what type of steel fabrication work the firm performs.

Waveland man charged

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Waveland male being held in Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis under $25,000 bond after being charged with aggravated assault, fondling and burglary.

Investigator Robert Tartavouille of the Waveland Police Department said Fred Wilson, 40, of 2101 Nicholson Ave. was arrested at his residence by Patrolmen Chuck James and John Wilkerson at 11:40 p.m. Thursday.

The investigator said the charges stemmed from a 10:41 p.m. incident Thursday where Wilson allegedly entered a Camille Trailer Park residence and allegedly was playing with the penis of a young boy.

Tartavouille said apparently the child objected and Wilson allegedly began beating the boy.

"The child's little brother heard the noise, entered the room where the alleged incident was occurring and began screaming for help," the investigator reported.

Tartavouille said the child's screams brought neighbors to the scene and Wilson allegedly fled in foot.

Tartavouille and investigator Sandra Henley are investigating the incident.

Bienville lease near consummation

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Port Bienville Industrial Park property lease agreement with a Pacific Gulf firm which reportedly will build a dock for cargo ship consummation. Gonzalez Marine Enterprises, Inc. of Pangloss will lease some 64.8 acres of waterfront property in the park and plans to employ some 300 people to construct "jack-up" workover and offshore oil rigs.

James Savage, a company vice president, reported to W. Wilson Webre, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission executive director, and The Sea Coast Echo last week that the agreement finalization was "in abeyance" until Gonzalez signed a contract to construct the rig for Dolphin International of Houston, Tex.

Webre reported at a Thursday night commission meeting that Savage is no longer with the company (Gonzales).

"The company didn't want to release information about the lease because of competitive reasons," he explained.

The executive director would not elaborate as the company's stock transactions.

"A representative of Gonzalez told me they do have a contract in hand and are ready to sign the county's agreement," Webre said.

Webre suggested the property, located just west of land occupied by Englewood Steel, Inc., be resurveyed to establish harbor limit lines.

Michael Smith of Bay St. Louis, Advanced Development, Inc., president and civil engineer, noted the

That increase was granted Aug. 18. Robinson said Johnson is now requesting a residential water rate increase from the current $4.50 flat rate per month to $12 per month.

In addition, the company is requesting the current residential connecting fee be raised from $250 to $400.

Robinson said the utility company is now requesting a $200 charge for commercial connections.

"The commission suspended the rate increase request," Robinson said.

Robinson said the commission will set a public hearing on the rate increase.

He stated Johnson has verbally agreed to a 10 percent increase in the rate. Robinson said Johnson is now requesting a 20 percent increase.

Robinson said the utility company has had a long period of time to the commission's head.

"Usually they post a bond of half the amount which the company would collect from the customer in a year if the increase was approved," he said.

The bond money will be held in an escrow account by the commission until the court decides the issue.

Robinson said that could take a year. "The money in the escrow account will be returned to the customer with interest if the rate increase is not approved," Robinson said.

Before Johnson Utility bought the Clemons Charles Waterworks system, customers paid a $100 a year for water.

Johnson in buying the waterworks increased the rate to $150 a year.

Robinson said Johnson is now requesting a 20 percent increase in the rate.

Pirates keelhaul East Central in 28-0 victory

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Pass Christian High School Pirates football team keelhailed the East Central High School Hornets Friday night in a local homecoming contest, shutting out the Jackson County squad, 28-0.

Pirate Fullback Ben Fields scored twice for the Pirates taking handoffs by quarterback Ira Bradley and scampering five yards for one touchdown and in a spectacular run rammed 72 yards for another TD.

Pass Christian scored all their points by the middle of the third quarter and Pirate Head Coach Bob Lumpkin sent in second string players to finish out the game and win the battle weary first stringers.

Second string quarterback Jamie Jenkins saw his first night of combat as a Pirate pilot. Even though he earned no scores for the Pirates, Jenkins performed coolly while facing the onslaught of a big Hornet defensive line.

The Pirates defensive line performed exceptionally well by icing East Central's offensive efforts. In fact, the Hornets did not push deep into the Pass Christian territory at any time Friday night.

No significant gains were earned by either team in the first quarter, but early in the second period the Pass broke loose when center Eldridge Dedaux intercepted a Hornet pass deep in East Central territory and ran to the 11-yard line.

After pushing to the five-yard line, Fields went in for the first TD and Jeff Ulrich kicked in the extra point and upped the score to 7-0.

The Pirates defense held the Hornets in their own territory. On a second and nine play, Bradley launched a long pass to tight end Ricky Dedaux who ran from the East Central 45-yard line to score for the St. Stanislaus lost its third consecutive football game Friday night when the visiting d'Iberville Warriors with the help of the quick whistled offense blanked the Rock A-Crescent.

d'Iberville matched 73 yards with passing play and scoring touchdowns in the first quarter and second quarter.

Warrior Coach Larry Edwards said the Warriors in the first half kept the defense from scoring any points and the Warriors' offense kept the defense from scoring any points.

Starting deep in their own territory, the Warriors mounted another drive which reached the Rock 23 before an interception by Pat Leach stopped the threat.

Pase Christian, through his second half of the homecoming game, led the Pirates to a 21-0 victory over the Hornets. The Pirates' offense was held back by the Hornets' defense, but a clipping penalty pushed the Pirates back to the 44-yard line.

In a third and 25 situation, Bradley threw a long bomb to split end Greg Porter, who danced in from the five-yard line for another Pirate TD with 31 seconds left in the first half.

Bradley earned conversion points on a quarterback keeper in the middle which increased the score to 21-0 for the first half of the contest.

Memorandum on broken glass

When you break a glass, you should report it to the proper authorities. This is especially true if the glass is broken in a public place, such as a restaurant or a store. The proper authorities are the police or the manager of the establishment. It is important to report broken glass because it can be a safety hazard. Broken glass can cut people and it can also be a fire hazard. Therefore, if you break a glass, you should report it immediately to the proper authorities. This will help to keep everyone safe and prevent accidents.
